

You can also report abandoned vehicles to Crackdown

Abandoned vehicles spoil the community environment and can be a focus for vandalism and crime. Operation Crackdown's Abandoned Vehicle Scheme is a partnership between Sussex Police, local authorities and the fire and rescue services. It was created to ensure that vehicles abandoned in Sussex are investigated quickly and where appropriate, removed.

You can report anti-social driving online:

Visit www.operationcrackdown.org

Or by phone:

Call the Crackdown Hotline on 01243 64 22 22

You'll need to tell us:

1. About the vehicle

- Details of the type of vehicle (car, van, motorbike etc)
- Make, model and colour of the vehicle
- The condition of the vehicle (If you can, please take a digital picture of the vehicle in .jpg format no bigger than 500 kb)
- The vehicle registration number (licence plate) if it has one
- Whether or not it is displaying a current tax disc

2. Where it is abandoned – including any house numbers, road names, shops or local landmarks that help narrow it down. Please also tell us if there are any obstacles to reaching the vehicle.

What happens when you report an abandoned vehicle to Crackdown?

Every report is investigated and the partnership will take appropriate action. It is always worth making a report. Working together, we can crack down on abandoned vehicles in Sussex.
